DOD Upgrades Data System Database

The Department of Defense is upgrading the Defense Civilian Personnel Data System, to a new web-based interface called Oracle 11i. With the web-based DCPDS system, users will see some changes. User screens will have a slightly different look and feel, similar to the Army Knowledge Online website.

The DOD plans to upgrade the system beginning July 18. The change will result in approximately two weeks of downtime for USAREUR users. DOD expects the system to be available for use Aug. 1. Local Civilian Personnel Advisory Centers will be conducting training on the new software and the CHRMA website will offer a "Quick Start" guide for managers. For info visit www.chrma.hqusareur.army.mil or www.cpol.army.mil.

Force Protection Travel Requirements

All Department of Defense military and civilian personnel must be briefed on force protection considerations that apply to both their destination and their travel route. Before leaving on any trip, always check government force protection Web sites for up-to-date travel advisories. These Web sites are www.state.gov/travel (criminal/travel advisories/ warnings), www.cdc.gov/travel (types of diseases at that location) and www.odcsops.hqusareur.army.mil (FP page, threat levels by country).

Online Customs Briefing Saves Time

A new online customs briefing aims to make PCS moves smoother for those shipping household goods stateside this summer. Customers can read or download the online customs briefing, thereby spending less time in the customs office. They must print a statement off the Web site, sign it and take it to the customs office to avoid the in-office briefing. The Web site has a list of prohibited and restricted items. Some articles are prohibited outright and may not be shipped at all. For info visit www.hqusareur.army.mil/opm/briefing.htm.
